DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

RESIGNATION OF STANTON.

The prompt resignation of Stanton is the g and necessary sequel of the utter collapse of the impeachment. If the resolution taken in the Republican caucus of Senators to postpone the vote and keep the impeachment alive had been carried out in the Court, Stanton would have held on in spite of the further injury which would have been done to the public service. One object of the proposed postponement was doubtless to spite the President by his longer retention.

There is no result of the President's complete acquittal which will give more sincere joy to honest men than the humiliation and disgrace of this insolent miscreant. He was not only the occasion of the impeachment, but its chief instigator. As soon as the President caused the notice of his removal to be served on him, he immediately volunteered to send a copy of it to the House without waiting to have it called for, as if he had made up his mind that impeachment was the necessary consequence and he had a right to dictate it. His office has been the focus of all the impeachment intrigues. He has regarded the whole affair in the light of a personal contest between him and the President, and he expected Congress to decide that his title to power was better than that of a President elected by the people. He was willing to disorganize the Government, to virtually destroy the War Department by severing it from all connection with the President, and to keep the military administration of the country in a state of confusion, to gratify his ignoble insolence and his sordid avarice of power. His humiliation is as signal as his character is infamous. He will slink away into obscurity despised by the very Radicals who have abetted his insolence to gratify a spirit of base revenge.

Nor is Stanton the only person who is humiliated by his extorted resignation. General Grant, who first secretly connived at his contumacy and afterwards gave it his open countenance; General Grant, who forfeited his word to restore Stanton, and who was convicted of duplicity and misstatements by the written testimony of half a dozen gentlemen of the highest standing; General Grant, who, to serve Stanton, cavilled at the order of the President forbidding him to recognize the unindorsed orders of Stanton and disobeyed his Commander-in-Chief; General Grant, who permitted it to be given out in the Republican newspapers that he thought the conviction of the President to be essential to the safety of the country, shares the disgrace of the man he tried by discreditable means to uphold.—N. Y. World.

CONGRESSIONAL PROSCRIPTION OF THE BOYS IN BLUE.

One thing is very certain, so far as the "White Boys in Blue" in this city are concerned, that the acts of the Grant-Colfax Congress are setting them, like the steel of their trusty weapons, against the array of the Jacobins, including Grant at the head. Aside from the general reasons against that sort of strategy of General Grant to please Stanton and others of the "Onward to Richmond" faction, which idly, uselessly, and inhumanly threw away as vile things the lives and limbs and vigor of from fifty to one hundred thousand soldiers in the jungles of the Wilderness, just as did Hooker before him at the beck of the War Department, and as also did Burnside at Fredericksburg, there is now intensely added on the part of the soldiery at this point deep indignation in that their old right to vote as residents in the city has been denied by the action of the Grant-Colfax Congress.

The soldiers, too, have heard of the severe punishment that came to their comrades at Carlisle barracks for resolving that the President is their constitutional commander. Soldiers are outraged by the espionage established here by Stanton, whereby Mr. Baker-Butler is allowed to employ waiters (where he can do so) and the negro lazzaroni of the Freedman's Bureau to dog the steps of Democrats and Conservatives, and seek within doors and without to overhear the conversation of citizens. Congress, with its Grant, Butler, Howard, and Colfax instrumentalities, does in reality closely approximate the "bow-string" and "sack" satrapies of the East.—Nat. Intelligencer.

MR. CAREY'S RESOLUTION.—The Chicago Convention having resolved that the public debt must be paid according to the letter and spirit of the contract, and some of the Radicals holding that this meant payment in greenbacks, and others, that it meant payment in gold, Mr. Carey offered the following to settle the question:

"Resolved, That neither the letter nor the spirit of the law under which the five-twenties were issued, requires the payment of the principal in coin, and it will be in the utmost good faith if the holders thereof be paid in the same money which has been paid to the soldiers who fought the battles of the war, and with which the Government settles the claims of the widows and orphans of our fallen heroes—the same as laborers are required to receive as wages, and that which is a legal tender for all public and private debts, except customs duties, and interest on the public debt."

But the hypocrites refused to vote upon it, and referred it to a Committee.

MR. BROOKS ON THE RIGHTS OF THE PRESS.—In his speech of Monday on Beast Butler's infamous proceedings, Mr. Brooks said:

"He claimed that journalism was as respectable as any other profession; but journalists would have no right to associate with gentlemen if, in every political excitement here they could be compelled to disclose every private conversation held in the social circle with public men.—When they thus obtained information in the line of their profession, exclusively pertaining to their business pursuits, journalism became as much a privileged profession as the consultation of a client and his lawyer, or a confession to the priesthood; and in behalf of his profession he would say it was the duty of a journalist, despite of all threats of imprisonment, or even of death, to decline to impart such privileged communications, except at the command of the highest courts of law, and then only as to particular or specified facts. He declared and proclaimed that the seizure of telegrams was an outrage on private rights and liberty. The like was never known in any country whatever in time of peace, and would never be submitted to in Europe, if attempted in the form it has been here.—The only wonder was that, considering the freedom of using the telegraph in matters relating to commerce, business affairs, and the most sacred domestic relations, the Managers had not discovered more curious telegrams. He believed that they had suppressed hundreds of other telegrams, while those before the House were perverted or misrepresented.

The surrender of those telegrams by the managers of the telegraph offices was most disgraceful and cowardly, and ought to condemn them in the eyes of the world.

THE COLD AND CALLOUSED CONGRESS.

The day is coming, and now is, when the people all declare that the Radical Congress has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. The people ask of Congress "bread" [relief] and they give them a "stone." They ask for drink and they give them a serpent in the form of more than six months' foul legislative incubation, without doing anything or even seeking to do anything to really restore prosperity to the people in their business relations. Three months of this have been directed to the impeachment fiasco and farce, which, Mr. Trumbull said, could not live fifteen minutes in the commonest justice's court.—Ibid.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR,

ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.

By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTIES.

THIS GREAT WORK PRESENTS THE ONLY complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens, from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

THE SENTINEL.

WILLIAM E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1868

WHAT IS SENATOR DRAKE AFTER?

The telegram of last night announced that Senator Drake on yesterday took strong ground in the Senate against the speedy admission of the late "Rebel" States. He said that the country had gotten along without the Southern States for the last seven years and he thought it could still survive without them for the next seven months. We do not know whether Mr. Drake only speaks for himself or for a faction of his party. He is understood to represent, the "vengeance" or Wade wing of the party, and his remarks may be somewhat ominous. We attach but little importance to his declarations, although they produced some sensation, for the reason that we think the party is bent to reconstruct all the Southern States solens volens, before the Presidential election, though we should not be surprised, if, in doing so, it will make a bad bargain.

Mr. Drake is right. The country has gotten along for seven years without the Southern States—long enough for a wife to obtain a divorce from her absent, recusant husband. Perhaps Mr. Drake is ready to divorce the South and untie the marriage knot. What else can he mean?

A cotemporary, the Friend of Temperance, alluding to the delay of Congress, wittily remarks:

The opinion seems to be gaining ground, that Congress will not admit the reconstructed States before the Presidential election. We are getting to be as indifferent as the old lady, who, when refused admission into a certain church, said as she went out at the door: "Drot ef I keer! I can jine at Black Creek!"

TRUCK FARMING.

In endeavoring to excite a proper interest among our people in behalf of truck farming, we have at the same time been careful to suggest, that this kind of labor should not so engross the attention of our planters as to leave out of view, the more certain reliance which experience has shown to be best, in the improved and extensive culture of small grain, corn, cotton and tobacco.

The great demand in the Northern cities for early vegetables and fruits, though immense, cannot be beyond the reach of supply. If every one should turn his attention to the product of one or two articles, such as green peas or strawberries, the result cannot be doubtful. The market must soon be overstocked and hence prices must decline and profit disappear. Hence the only sound policy of every planter is, that beyond his great efforts to improve his lands and by the aid of skilled labor and improved implements to produce the largest crops possible of market produce, he should only devote his surplus labor and means to the production of vegetables, fruits and vineyards. Division of labor and its proper direction should be employed by every farmer in the production of every article which is marketable, rather than devote his resources to the production of one or two.

Much has been said about the large profits of producing strawberries alone for Northern consumption, but the following statement of the Norfolk Journal shows conclusively, that if every one should devote much labor and means to the production of strawberries, failure must ensue. The Journal says "that strawberries, the most delicious of fruits are retailing in this city at the very low price of six and eight cents per quart, with a downward tendency."

AN EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

Elsewhere we have opposed the calling of a Convention of the people of North Carolina, until the meeting of the Democratic Convention at New York in July.

A Convention of the Editors and Publishers of the State opposed to the Republican party and Radicalism, it seems to us, might be called at once, and would no doubt be productive of much good to the political as well as material interests of the State at large.

We therefore suggest to our brethren of the State press, Raleigh, and Thursday, the eighteenth of June, as a suitable time for a meeting of the representatives of the publishing interests of North Carolina, to consult in person as to the wisest and most prudent course to pursue in the present condition of public affairs.

We throw out this suggestion in few words, and await with anxiety a response from our Editorial brethren.—Tarboro' Southerner.

We think the above a good suggestion, and we cordially invite our brethren of the press to meet in this city at the time specified, if it meets their approbation, and they can do so with convenience.—Sentinel.

AN ENGLISHMAN ON EMIGRATION TO THIS COUNTRY.

The Journal of Newcastle-upon-Tyne (England,) of May 12th, contains a notice of a lecture delivered in that city the night previous by Dr. A. R. Oliver, whose recent presence in this State was, at the time, mentioned in the Richmond Whig. The Doctor entertained his audience with an account of his extensive tour in the United States and Canada. The following passage from the Journal's notice will interest our readers:

"Speaking on political topics, he said he was opposed to slavery; but the manner in which the slaves had been liberated ensured their annihilation; destruction was written in their faces; and they were now herding together, by fifties and sixties, in sheds like cattle. He had seen pamphlets circulated amongst them during the civil war, telling them they were to possess their master's houses and lands, and that they were to be the masters, and their masters their slaves. He described the principal battle-fields of the South; and said the country was so much depopulated that you could buy rich farms with dwelling houses upon them for a few dollars an acre. He strongly recommended Virginia to intended emigrants, and warned them against the Far West, which contains the scum of society."

FREEDMEN'S SAVINGS BANKS.

We have never joined in the denunciation of the negro because he has been ready to vote for his own enfranchisement. The only real ground of complaint has been, that he has, of choice, committed the keeping of his interests to strangers, men of doubtful character, frequently, and to a class of natives who do not enjoy the public confidence, all of whom it is believed are influenced in their action a thousand-fold more by their own self interest and aggrandizement, than by any real purpose to promote the future welfare of the colored race.

We have been anxious to promote the material and moral interests of the blacks, and believing that these could not be secured half so soon by conferring upon them social and political franchises, as by encouraging them to be industrious and economical, to cultivate their minds and morals, by honesty, sobriety, and virtue, and by the use of every means to improve them and their children in skilled and systematic labor, we have advised the latter as a superior policy to the former.

In order to encourage industry and frugality among them, we give in another column, Gen. Miles' Circular in reference to Savings Banks for them, which we had not seen till we found it in the Wilmington Journal. We commend, especially, the good advice given them by Gen. Miles.—We are, however, nearly as much in doubt, whether the proposition to establish Banks among them is not as far in advance of their necessities and capacity to appreciate and profit by them, as universal suffrage. With all due deference to the wisdom of Congress and the Radical party, their whole scheme has struck us, if the object really was to benefit the negro, that they have put the pyramid upon its point. Having freed the negro, which we consider irreversible and a settled point, the first aim should have been to adopt those means which experience has proven beneficial to persons in at least a semi-civilized State; best calculated to enable them to appreciate their freedom and profit by it, by gradual and certain approaches to the higher stages of civilization, rather than at one step to have tickled their fancy and dazzled their imagination with the idea, that they are already equal in all respects to the white race.—

If, however, they can profit by the establishment of Saving's Banks among them, which, possibly, they can do, to some extent, by following the advice of Gen. Miles, we are ready to aid them in it.

STATE ITEMS.

The Milton Chronicle advises Congress to "stop and think," before it admits North Carolina into the Union. It says:

It would be well for Congress to stop and think, that Congress has time and again declared, North Carolina has never been out of the Union. Once a State in the Union, always a State in the Union.

The Old North State regrets to learn that Isaac Holman, a highly respectable citizen of Davie County, committed suicide by shooting himself on Tuesday evening.

The following have been elected officers of Salisbury Chapter, No. 20, R. A. M., for the ensuing year, to wit:

M. E.	Luke Blackmer,	H. P.
E.	John M. Coffin,	K.
E.	Joseph W. Hall,	L.
Comp.	D. A. Davis,	C. H.
"	Wm. Murdoch,	P. S.
"	Martin Richwine,	R. A. C.
"	Andrew Murphy,	M. 3d. V.
"	John W. Biting,	M. 2d. V.
"	John S. Haigher,	M. 1st. V.
"	Obadiah Woodson,	Secretary.
"	C. A. Henderson,	Treasurer.
"	Samuel Linton,	Janitor.

The Milton Chronicle desires to know what has become of Gen. Littlefield. Not knowing, we cannot say.

The Milton Chronicle, speaking of Hog Cholera, says:

Some of the farmers of this section are said to be losing their hogs from a prevalence of this disease. A writer in the Louisville Courier states that he has examined hogs after their death, and always found an incredible number of lice and worms on their carcasses. After making this discovery, he experimented and found that the lice were easy to drive with coal oil. To kill the worms, he steeped the herb called Jerusalem oak, in hot water till the liquor became very strong, and then mixed corn meal and fed it to the hogs, while in health. This always killed the worms before the cholera was set up in the system.

Friend Haynes of the Old North State is in raptures over the fine garden of Mrs. Nat. Boyden, of Salisbury. It must be some from his description.

The Wilmington Star, alluding to the present unhealthiness of that place, says:

"An unusual amount of sickness seems to exist in our city just at present—none however of very serious character, chills and fevers being apparently the choice of all who get sick. We do not know how to account for it, but hope the cleaning of the filth from the streets, alleys, lots, &c., will exercise a favorable effect.

The Union Cotton Mills, located on Deep River, in Randolph county, were sold at auction last week, for $14,000; not half the original cost. Mr. Geo. W. Swepson becoming the purchaser.

There appears to be some snakes about old Guilford. The Greensboro' Times says:

Mr. John Wyrick, of this county informs us that he recently killed a snake of the Mocasin species that measured 5 feet 9 inches in length.

The Greensboro Patriot gives the follows in account of Judge Tourgee, &c.:

"Judge Tourgee the unlicensed who represented Guilford in the late Convention has never listed or paid a cent of taxes in this County. And if he has a dollar's worth of property we do not know where it is. The Reverend G. W. Welker, the Judge's colleague, we understand, listed a small tract of land and paid last year $1.80 tax on it. We incline to the opinion that he will be found on examination to be one of the largest tax payers who held a seat in the so-called Convention."

Bishop Janes asserts that the Methodists of the United States pay $2,000,000 tax on tobacco used by them, while their missionary treasury is $70,000 in debt.

THE PRESIDENT'S ACQUITTAL—HOW IT HAPPENED.

From the Baltimore Gazette, we gather the following concerning the final vote on the impeachment:

Just before the hour of 12 o'clock Senator Edmunds came in and announced confidentially to a few friends around him that the voting would be postponed, such being the determination of the caucus. A few moments later the other Senators entered the Chamber with an air of indifference, and were soon engaged in conversation, groups being formed—during which the action of the caucus was discussed and speculations freely offered as to the probable effect of the contemplated postponement on party interests. At this time no Senator doubted for a moment that the vote would be postponed—the managers had requested it and the caucus had voted to grant it—yet the vote was taken and the President acquitted. How was it done? The details will furnish an interesting page for the future historian. Soon after the Court had organized for business and all the dramatis personæ were in position, Senator Edmunds rose slowly from his seat, and drawing from his pocket, offered a resolution rescinding all previous rules on the subject of voting.—The Chief Justice thought the resolution was not in order, the Radical majority of the Court thought otherwise, and the rules were rescinded. Next came a resolution postponing the vote on impeachment until the 23d of June. The Chief Justice considered this out of order, but was again overruled by the caucussing Senators.—On each of these propositions Senator Ross, of Kansas, voted with the impeachers, and a decided sensation among them was perceptible. Radical Senators were bobbing their heads at each other, and a great effort made to communicate and confer one with another. Ross had defeated them on the eleventh article, and vituperative abuse had been heaped upon him. Was it possible he had repented at the eleventh hour, if not on the eleventh article? Conkling offered a substitute for the motion to adjourn, which provided that the Senate, sitting as a Court of Impeachment, should proceed at once to vote on the remaining articles of impeachment. This was supposed by many to be a motion offered in good faith by the Senator from New York, and when it was rejected by an overwhelming vote, many of the spectators left the galleries, supposing the days performances at an end. The newspaper men in their anxiety to outstrip all competition, flashed the news over the wires "impeachment postponed until the 23d. of June." No one doubted the fact except the parties engaged in the desperate game. Conkling's purpose proved to be to draw out an expression from Ross, who, understanding the game, in turn set a trap for the impeachers. Ross voted squarely against Conkling's substitute; another buzz was heard on the Radical side of the Chamber. Sumner left his seat and hurriedly passed to the seats of Senators Edmunds, Williams, and others, holding brief conferences with each. Other Senators leaned towards each other and passed hurried words. Spectators continued leaving, and the telegraph had already spread the news in every direction that the Senate had voted to postpone, which was virtually the case, when the vote was taken refusing to proceed.—But now an undercurrent was seen and felt, though its exact character was still unknown. Some new developments was about being made. The countenances of the impeachers seemed to brighten up, and some unexpected turn in events was evidently anticipated. Ross had been drawn out, he was upon the record with the impeachers on every preliminary question, he too seemed to be acting in the best faith—'presto,' "We won't postpone" said the impeachers, "but while Ross is voting 'right' we will give him a chance on the second article." They voted down their own caucus resolution to postpone until the 23d. of June, and moved to go into a vote on the second article of impeachment. The impeachers were now all smiles. They had by adroitness ascertained exactly how Ross would vote, as they supposed, and now they would convict Johnson certain. They little suspected that there were two parties to their game, and quite as little suspected the modest, unsophisticated Senator from Kansas of intending to entrap thirty five impeachers at a single haul. The roll was called amid breathless silence, and the interest heightened as the votes of the doubtful Senators were reached—culminating when the name of Senator Ross was called. Now came the tug of War. The impeachers had hazarded everything upon this vote—could it be possible that thirty five politicians had been overreached by one man? It was true!! Ross had set his trap, and caught the whole party, and when he, answered in a clear, ringing voice, "not guilty," there were countenances on the Radical side of the Chamber which would have furnished subjects worthy of Hogarth. Impeachment had been long dead and now it was buried. Bingham and Boutwell hurried from the Chamber. Butler retained his seat until the third article was voted down and the others abandoned. On the opposite side of the table sat Evarts, Stanbery and Nelson, of the President's counsel, apparently unmoved by the great events transpiring around them.

Blake Harlan, an Indiana Radical, but now a resident of Louisiana, writes to the Peru Sentinel to say that the short time he has spent in that State under Radical rule has cured him of Radicalism. The recent election in Louisiana, he says, removed the last particle of Radicalism from him. He says: "The entire election was a humbug. Every negro belongs to a club headed by a carpet-bagger with a white skin but a heart as black as the devil, who manages the votes and marches the negroes up to the polls in a single-file, giving each man his ticket as his turn comes, which the ignoramus passes to the judges with a grin and chuckle."

A large body of armed negroes, in regular military array, were marching through Clark county, Tennessee, a few days since. They visited the houses of negroes who refused to affiliate with the loyal league, and took them away, it is believed, to murder them.

Mr. B. E. S. Moore, of Maine, has purchased the Oxford Iron Works, an estate of 1,400 acres, about eight miles below Lynchburg, for $20,000. Active operations will at once be commenced by the purchaser.—

One of the best day's work that the Cincinnati Commercial has ever done was is striking a blow that cost it 900 subscribers in a day. In less than three months they were back again multiplied by three.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Flounces are now the rage in Paris. As many as thirty-six are to be put on muslin dresses, and morevor the flounces are to be of Valenciennes. Valenciennes is also fashionable on silks, to the great dismay of husbands and fathers, who have to foot the bills. Bonnets, however, are growing smaller, if possible.

Dr. Robert J. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, made a strong speech in the Presbyterian General Assembly at Albany in opposition to the proposed union of the two schools of the Church.

DIED:

Very suddenly, at his residence in Chatham County, N. C., on the 23rd inst., of appoplexy, Mr. LAWRENCE MCMANUS, in the 59th year of his age. Mr. McM. was a good citizen and much esteemed by his friends and acquaintances.

Directions for Getting Staves.

NORFOLK, May 27, 1868.

Messrs. Editors:—We give below the Inspection Law of the State of Virginia, which applies to our market.

White Oak Hogshead Staves must be 3½ feet long, all heart, 3 inches wide, ¾ inches thick on the thin edge, shaved smooth, straight on sides and edges, clear of knots, worm holes, and wind shakes.

Red Oak Hogshead Staves must be 3 inches wide, if all heart, and 3½ inches wide if part sap—same length and thickness, and same requirements as White Oak Hogshead Staves.

White Oak Pipe Staves must be 4½ feet long, all heart, same width thickness, and requirements as White Oak Hogshead Staves.

White Oak Hogshead Heading must be 5 inches wide, all heart, one-third each 28, 30 and 32 inches long, same thickness and requirements as White Oak Hogshead Staves.

White Oak Barrel Staves must be 32 inches long, 3 inches wide, all heart, same thickness, and requirements as White Oak Hogshead Staves.

Red Oak Hhbd. Staves, if gotten 44 inches long, 4 inches wide, and 1 inch thick, will command a better price than the ordinary dimensions, and are in more demand.

We would advise that all Staves and Heading should be gotten a little over the dimensions required by law, to allow for shrinkage.

It takes 1,200 pieces to make a thousand Staves and Heading.

Staves and Heading of good quality always command remunerative prices in our market, and are nearly always in demand.

Having been engaged in selling Staves for eighteen years, we are perfectly conversant with the business, and flatter ourselves that we can and do always obtain the very highest prices.

Strict attention will be given to any consignments entrusted to our care, and prompt returns made. Any further information will be given on application, with pleasure.

LIFE INSURANCE.

ITS IMPORTANCE AND ITS BENEFITS ARE INCALCULABLE.

A COMPANY PAYING LOSSES PROMPTLY FOR A LONG SERIES OF YEARS, AND IS A stranger to litigation, is entitled to the confidence and patronage of our people. And such is the ÆTNA LIFE COMPANY.

In addition to the very large amount of $17,485,894.71

paid since its organization, may be added the following policies settled in North Carolina to the 1st March, 1868, thus providing support and comfort to the widow and orphan in their bereavement and distress:

Policy No.	15,273	—settled	$ 5,000
" "	18,018	"	5,000
" "	24,692	"	5,000
" "	27,512	"	3,000
" "	28,650	"	10,000
" "	4,974	"	5,000
" "	35,082	"	3,000
			10,000
Total			$ 45,000.00

The value of all Insurance, either against fire or life, is to know you are investing in a Company of responsibility, and prompt action in discharging all just demands against it. Such is the Ætna, having now:

ASSETS,		No. POLICIES
$8,000,000.		48,000.
DIVISIBLE SURPLUS		DIVIDENDS,
$1,884,768,51.		50 per cent.

Fifty per cent Dividend is now being returned to all who have paid two premiums, and the Dividends will be given ANNUALLY to all such hereafter, who are insured upon the Life plan.

The Ætna issues policies upon ages from 14 to 65.

The Ætna will give a policy upon which 10 payments may be paid, and nothing more will be required, though the party might live thirty or forty years, and after the payment of ten years he is entitled to the dividends of the Company so long as life continues.

The Ætna issues 10 years Endowment Policies to be paid at death or the specified time.

The Ætna gives a general permit to travel or reside in any part of the United States without any extra charge, and in all respects gives as many advantages to the insured as any other first-class Company.

PHŒNIX MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

EDSON FESSENDEN, President. | JAMES F. BURNS, Secretary.

IN PRESENTING THE CLAIMS OF THE PHŒNIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, to the people of North Carolina, the Agent invites their attention to the following statements:

1. It is a Mutual Company, the profits being divided among the insured.
2. Its insured are allowed to travel and reside in any part of the United States and Europe, in all seasons of the year.
3. Its dividends have averaged 50 per cent yearly, and are payable on the amount of premium paid by the insured.
4. Its policies are all NON-FORFEITING.
5. Its losses have been met by the annual interest received alone,—and a surplus of interest left over to swell the general fund belonging to the insured.
6. It has paid over $300,000 of losses, and NEVER CONTESTED A CLAIM.
7. Its rates of assurance are as cheap as any Company doing a safe business.
8. IT WILL NOT INSURE AN UNSOUND LIFE.
9. One half the premium will be received in the note of the insured—which note, in case of death, is NEVER deducted from the face of the policy.
10. IT HAS NO CONNECTION WITH FIRE INSURANCE.

Relative character of the Companies operating in North Carolina, as to their Assets and Liabilities, taken from the New York Insurance Report for the year 1867, which is the last report—showing how much of Assets each Company has to meet each dollar of Liability:

PHŒNIX MUTUAL	61 78
ÆTNA	1 31
BROOKLYN	1 32
CONNECTICUT MUTUAL	1 46
EQUITABLE	1 54
MANHATTAN	1 61

The PHŒNIX MUTUAL offers peculiar inducements to citizens of the Southern States—its regulations with regard to residence and travel being almost unrestricted.

These statements are made from impartial reports in the hands of the Agents of the Company.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1868

NEW ADVERTISEMENT.—Messrs. Phillips & Battle will sell, at Auction, before the Court House, on the 17th of June next, Nevill's Church. See advertisement.

ANOTHER ROBBERY.—On Thursday night last, some unknown persons entered the smoke-house of Rufus S. Tucker, Esq, at his residence, and stole therefrom twenty-four pieces of fine bacon and two bags of flour. These occurrences are becoming too common, and especially so, that with a good police force who are vigilant, it is very seldom that any discoveries are made of the articles stolen, or of the thieves. There is reason to fear that these robberies are committed by an organized band, and we know no way of breaking them up, but by a strong and vigilant citizen's guard, or some other strong force. It is high time something was done to detect the perpetrators.

SALEM FEMALE ACADEMY.—We are indebted to the accomplished President of this venerable and popular institution for a catalogue for 1867 '68. There have been 218 students on the register for the year, coming from nine of the Southern States. Rev. M. E. Grunert is the President, assisted by Rev. A. L. Oerter, Vice President.—Besides these there are twenty six instructors. We are glad to find the institution so flourishing in these hard times.

STRAWBERRIES.—We are indebted to our friend Capt. Timberlake, of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, for a box of the largest strawberries we have ever seen. They were grown on his premises and the plants were obtained from Georgia. We suppose a tumbler would not hold a dozen of them.

LOUISBURG.—Our excellent ass sfafe having been absent for several days in attendance upon the commencement exercises of the Louisburg Female College, returned last evening, but not in time to notice the commencement. His health seems to have been considerably improved and he is brim full of compliments and praises of the hospitality of the people of Franklin, (which we have often tested in days of yore,) of the beauty of the girls, the intelligence and refinement of the people, of the splendid commencement exercises, &c., &c. Our readers will hear from him on Monday.

BASE BALL MATCH GAME.—There was a match game of Base Ball, at Franklinton, on the 23rd. inst., between the Stella, of that place, and the Golden Circle, of Louisburg. The score stood as follows: Stella 42, Golden Circle 6.

MEMORIAL CEREMONIES AT THE UNION CEMETERY.—In accordance with orders from the headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic, the members of the order and such others as are disposed to participate, will observe memorial ceremonies at the Cemetery near this city to-day. Approving, as we do, most heartily, the annual memorial ceremonies for the loved, and the lost, and the brave among the Confederate dead, we cannot withhold our entire approval of similar observances in behalf of the soldiers of the Federal army, who fell during the struggle, by their surviving comrades in arms and all others who can do so with propriety. We expect no one hostile to the Confederate soldier, either during or since the war, to pay honor to our braves who fell in the contest, for the reason that such exhibitions of respect, must be heartless and hypocritical. For the same reason it is only proper, that those who can bestow honor from the heart upon the Federal soldier, who fell in the struggle against us, can, with propriety, participate.

The following notice of the order of proceedings, to-day, has been sent us by the Committee, we presume:

"The members of the Grand Army of the Republic will form at the South side of Capitol square at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Soldiers and citizens wishing to join the procession will fall in immediately after the G. A. R.

The 40th U. S. Infantry Band will head the column.

The procession will move to the cemetery.

The opening services will be conducted by the Rev. T. A. Fiske. The oration will be delivered by Dr. H. C. Vogell. A Poem will be read by Geo. O. Spooner, Esq.—Benediction pronounced by the Rev. Henry Tupper.

All persons wishing to contribute flowers will send them to the Superintendent at the cemetery on the morning of the 30th."

The terms of the seven Republican Senators voting "not guilty" on the eleventh article of impeachment expire as follows: Fessenden, of Maine, 1871; Fowler, of Tennessee, 1871; Grimes, of Iowa, 1871; Henderson, of Missouri, 1869; Ross, of Kansas, 1871; Trumbull, of Illinois, 1873; Van Winkle, of West Virginia, 1869.

FREEDMEN'S SAVINGS BANK.

BUREAU OF R., F. & A. L.,
H'DQ'S ASST. COM. STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Raleigh, N. C., May 18, 1868.

Circular No. 4.

The Assistant Commissioner is desirous of drawing the attention of the colored people of this State to the importance and benefit of the "Freedmen's Saving Bank," branches of which are already in operation in Raleigh, Newbern and Wilmington, and in a few days others will be established in Charlotte and Salisbury. This institution was incorporated under an act of Congress—for the special benefit of those whose earnings will allow them to lay aside small sums of money; providing a depository perfectly safe, and at the same time accumulating interest. "A penny saved is a penny earned," was the maxim of a wise and great man and one worthy of being followed.

These Banks will receive monies in small or large amounts, and at the end of every six months interest is added to the principal; and thus every deposit earns something, and by this system of compounding interest the original amount doubles itself every few years.

The colored people of this community are to all intents and purposes free and independent, but in some respects they are still in bondage or dependent upon others. So long as they are houseless, without shelter for their families, and without proper apparel and food, so long will their condition be one of extreme want and dependence—and the present condition of those who are slaves to habits of idleness, prodigality or intemperance, is far worse than their former bondage. A full appreciation of the liberty, advantages of citizenship and opportunities for education granted the race has been manifested, and the benefits arising therefrom fully realized. Now is the time to lay the foundation of future wealth, prosperity and happiness.

Everything has been done for you that was possible; you must now carve out your own fortunes. Your future career and success in life must be determined by your own actions. There are but two paths before you: in one you will find idleness, prodigality, vice, crime, slavery—either morally or physically—the other presents industry, economy, sobriety, prosperity and happiness. One great and important lesson for you to learn is the value and power of money.

The wealthiest men of our land were, a few years since, among the poorest boys of the country. They acquired wealth and independence by industry, honesty and economy. To save the first ten, the first hundred, or the first thousand dollars is the almost insuperable difficulty one experiences in the task of economy. But the first ten dollars saved, to save the hundred and thousand becomes easier, and accumulating money, instead of being a task, gradually, but surely, grows to be a satisfaction and pleasure. Unless the commencement is made, and the foundation laid, you will remain in poverty and want. Let every cent now wasted in purchasing tobacco, liquors, jewelry or fancy clothing, be saved, placed in the Saving's Bank, and when enough has been accumulated, buy a homestead, and thus place yourselves in circumstances both comfortable and independent.

Bear in mind that every dollar deposited is earning interest every day; and while sickness or other causes suspend daily employment, the little sum in the Bank grows larger every hour.

The particular attention of all colored people is called to this opportunity afforded by the Government for their benefit. Soldiers, especially, should take advantage of this offer, and thus provide for future interests, by depositing, each pay day, a portion of their monthly pay, thereby providing something to aid them when their term of service expires.

Let the children be taught to lay aside every penny they get, and when it amounts to ten cents, put it in the Saving's Bank, and when they arrive at twenty one they will have sufficient funds to materially aid them in business pursuits.

It is not only a matter of economy, but a wise policy, to provide against contingencies common to all men, such as sickness, misfortune and their attendants. Put every cent you can spare into the Bank, and coming years will show the wisdom of such a course.

NELSON A. MILES,
Bvt. Maj. Gen'l. U. S. A.,
Assistant Commissioner.

FROM WASHINGTON—CONGRESS, &C.

WASHINGTON, May 29, P. M.

HOUSE.—A resolution, adding three Democrats to the corruption Committee, was lost—53 to 65.

A resolution committing Woolley to solitary confinement, was discussed very bitterly; and a resolution to reconsider, under which the discussion was allowed, was tabled.

The House resumed the Indian appropriations and adjourned.

SENATE.—The citizens of Georgia presented a memorial against the removal of the State Capitol, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The President of the South Carolina Convention presented a petition, asking authority to call the Legislature of that State together, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The admission of Arkansas was resumed.

Mr. Edmunds moved to recommit the bill, with instructions to the Judiciary Committee to report a bill, placing the State under the now lately elected officers and continuing the military authority, with a provision for admission when the fourteenth article becomes a part of the Constitution.

Edmunds said: "As soon as the State was admitted, Congressional power would cease. The State government would have nothing to lean upon except the shoulders of the President."

Conkling spoke against the condition.

Executive session and adjourned.

General Schofield was confirmed. The confirmation is preambled with a re affirmation of the unconstitutionality of Stanton's removal

Revenue to-day over one million.

A Committee from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention notified Grant of his nomination. Grant made a brief speech.

Divergent views on the admission of Arkansas are becoming more marked. The probabilities of admission over the veto is decreasing. No Republican objects to the Constitution itself. The points of difficulty apply to all the Southern States.

TO LAND OWNERS.

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED, BY THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL AND MINING LAND COMPANY, Agent for all that part of North Carolina lying east of and including Catawba County, I am authorized to say, to any person or persons having 10,000 acres in one body, partially cleared and near a Rail Road, that the said company will subdivide their lands the Company will purchase alternate lots at their assessed value for taxation or as ascertained by two disinterested parties, paying for the same in the Company's stock—the Company obligating itself to place a white settler on every 200 acres, so acquired, within three years, or, failing to do so, such land unsettled to revert to the original owner; the owner to retain possession until the land is settled.

The object of this system is to bring into the State an industrious and thrifty population and to enhance the value of our lands. It has been adopted in other States and is said to be working finely.

This Company was chartered by our Legislature of 1868. Land owners will please address me for particulars at Beidsville, N. C.

CHEAP FOR CASH.

LOOK OUT FOR A CREECH!

JUST RECEIVED, $15,000 worth of new Spring and Summer Goods, which must, and will be, be sold within the next sixty days, if possible—If you want

LADIES' DRESS GOODS,

I have a beautiful assortment of the various styles and latest importations. It is a well known fact, and universally admitted, that to buy your goods. This can be, and is substantiated daily, by hundreds.

CREECH'S IS THE PLACE

If you want Cassimeres Tweeds, Kentucky Jeans, Cotton and Linen Goods of all descriptions, and suitable for gentlemen, boys and children's wear, CREECH'S is the place to look for them.

At Low Prices,

Why, you may go up one side of Fayetteville Street and down the other; yea, and then the cross streets, and you will be bound to come to the conclusion that CREECH'S is the place you had better do your trading. If you want

LADIES' BONNETS,

trimmed or untrimmed, CREECH'S is the place to get them. If you wish to purchase any style of

LADIES, MISSES or CHILDREN'S HATS,

don't buy until you have seen CREECH'S, or you will miss a great bargain, as he has one of the largest and most beautiful assortments in the City. If you are looking for

MEN'S, BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S HATS,

Ladies, Men and Children's Shoes, why if you stop at Creech's you will surely be suited in style, quality and price.

I told the people, some time ago, that there was no House in the City that could or would sell goods cheaper than I, and now I intend to keep my word. I said then what I meant, and now mean what I say. So don't fail to come to CREECH'S, on H. Smith's corner.

DAILY SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1868.

A LITTLE WAY.

A little way—I know it is not far
To that dear home where my beloved are;
And yet my faith grows weaker as I stand
A poor, lone pilgrim in a dreary land,
Where present pain the future bliss obscures;
And still my heart sits like a bird upon
The empty nest and mourns its treasures gone;
Pinned for their flight,
And vanished quite
Ah! me, where is the comfort?—though I say
They have but journeyed on a little way!

A little way—at times they seem so near,
Their voices ever murmur at my ear;
To all my duties loving presence lend,
And with sweet ministry my steps attend,
And bring my soul the luxury of tears,
'Twas here we met, and parted company;
Why should their gain be such a grief to me?
This sense of loss!
This heavy cross!
Dear Saviour, take the burden off, I pray,
And show me heaven is—but a little way.

These sombre robes, the saddened faces, all
The bitterness and pain of death recall;
Ah! let me turn my face where'er I may,
I see the traces of a sure decay;
And parting takes the marrow out of life.
Secure in bliss, we hold the golden chain,
Which death, with scarce a warning, snaps in twain,
And never more
Shall time restore
The broken links;—twas only yesterday
They vanished from our sight—a little way!

A little way!—this sentence I repeat,
Hoping and longing to extract some sweet
To mingle with the bitter. From thy hand
I take the cup I cannot understand,
And in my weakness give myself to thee!
Although it seems so very, very far
To that dear home where my beloved are,
I know, I know,
It is not so;
Oh! give me faith to feel it when I say
That they are gone—gone but a little way!

THE BURIED CITY.

I always had an idea that you went down into Pompeii with torches, by the way of damp, dark steps, just as you do in silver mines, and traversed gloomy tunnels with lava overhead, and something on either hand like dilapidated prisoners gouged out of the solid earth, that faintly resembled houses. But you do nothing of the kind.—Fully one half of the buried city, perhaps is completely exhumed and thrown open freely to the light of day; and there stand the long rows of solidly built brick houses; (roofless,) just as they stood eighteen hundred years ago, hot with the flaming sun; and there lie their floors, clean swept, and not a bright fragment tarnished or wanting of the labored mosaics that pictured them with the beasts, and birds, and flowers which we copy in perishable carpets to day.—There are the Venuses and the Bacchuses and Adonises in many-hued frescoes on the walls of saloon and bed chamber. There are the narrow streets, deeply rutted with the chariot-wheels of the Pompeians of bygone centuries; and there are the baker's shops, the temples, the halls of justice, the baths, the theatres—all clean-scraped and neat, and suggesting nothing of the nature of a silver mine away down in the bowels of the earth.

The sun shines as brightly down on old Pompeii to day as it did when our Saviour was born in Bethlehem, and its streets are cleaner a hundred times than ever Pompeian saw them in her prime. I know whereof I speak—for in the great, chief thoroughfares (Merchant street and the street of Fortune) have I not seen with my own eyes how for two hundred years, at least the pavements were not repaired!—How ruts five and even ten inches deep were worn into the thick flag stones by the chariot wheels of generations of swindled tax-payers! And don't I know by these signs that the street commissioners of Pompeii never attended to their business, and that if they never mended the pavements, they never cleaned them. I speak with feeling on this subject, because I caught my foot in one of those ruts, and the sadness that came over me when I saw the first skeleton, with ashes and lava sticking to it, was tempered by the reflection that may be that party was the street commissioner.

No; Pompeii is no longer a buried city. It is a city of hundreds and hundreds of roofless houses, and a tangled maze of streets, where one could easily get lost without a guide, and have to sleep in some ghostly palace that had known no living tenants since that awful November night of eighteen centuries ago.

BABIES.—The following, which we take from an exchange, is very good, in fact, too good to be lost. It will interest the married ones, and if it does not please old m—ds—we mean maiden ladies—why it is a sad commentary on single blessedness:

"I am here. And, if this is what they call the world, I don't think much of it.—It's a very flannelly world, and smells of paregoric awfully. It's a dreadful light world, too, and makes me blink, I tell you. And I don't know what to do with my hands; I think I'll dig my fists into my eyes. No, I won't. I'll scrabble at the corner of my blanket and chew it up, and then I'll holler. And the more paregoric they give me the louder I'll yell. That old nurse puts the spoon in the corner of my mouth in a very uneasy way, and keeps tasting my milk herself all the while. She spilled snuff in it last night, and when I hollered she trotted me. That comes of being a two days old baby. Never mind, when I'm a man, I'll pay her back. There's a pin sticking in me now, and if I say a word about it, I'll be trotted or fed, and I would rather have a catnip tea. I'll tell you who I am. I found out to-day. I heard folks say, "Hush, don't wake up Emeline's baby," and I suppose that pretty, white faced woman over on the pillow is Emeline.

No, I was mistaken, for a chap was in here just now, and wanted to see Bob's baby, and looked at me, and said I "was a funny little toad, and looked just like Bob." He smelt like cigars, and I'm not used to them. I wonder who else I belong to. Yet, there's another one, that's "Ganma" Emeline told me, and she took me up and held me against her soft cheek and said, "I was Ganma's baby, so I was." I declare I do not know who I do belong to; but I'll holler, and may be I'll find out.

There comes Snuffy with catnip tea. The idea of giving babies catnip tea when they are crying for information! I'm going to sleep. I wonder if I don't look pretty well in the face! I wonder why my hands won't go where I want them to!

As a young woman was walking alone one evening, a man looked at her, and followed her. The young woman said, "Why do you follow me?" He answered, "Because I have fallen in love with you." The woman said, "Why are you in love with me? My sister is much handsomer; she is coming after me; go and make love to her." The man turned back, and saw a woman with an ugly face. Being greatly displeased, he turned to the first woman and said, "Why did you tell me a falsehood?" The woman answered, "Neither did you speak the truth, for if you were really in love with me, why did you leave me to look up my sister?"

An eccentric clergyman lately said in one of his sermons that "about the commonest proof we have that man is made of clay, is the brick so often found in the hat."

A young lady at a fashionable dinner, pestered Dr. Johnson with a conundrum—a thing the bluff old philosopher utter'y detested. "Why is the letter J like the end of Spring, Doctor?" was the question. Of course the Doctor could'nt tell. "Because it is the beginning of June," was the solution. "Now, miss, will you tell me why the letter K is like a pig's tail?" sternly asked the Doctor. The young lady had to give up. "Because it is the end of pork, miss." The Doctor was bothered with no more conundrums.

Two widowers were one condoling together on the bereavement of their wives. One of them exclaimed, with a sigh: "Well may I bewail my loss, for I had so few differences with the dear deceased, that the last day of my marriage was as the first.—"There I surpass you," said his friend, "for the first day of mine was the happiest."

A fond father, the other day, wishing to form an alliance between his stupid son and a fine young lady of his acquaintance, sent him to her mother with the following note: "Dear Madam—Allow me to present my Bill for your acceptance." The lady sent the spooney back to his father with the following reply: "Dear Sir—Your Bill is vetoed."

There is a man in Boston so absent-minded that meeting his son on the street a day or two since, he extended his hand to him and inquired, "How do you do? When is your farther coming home?"

An old lady entered the depot at Lancaster, and wishing to have her baggage checked, asked the agent, "Is you de gentleman what mails de trunks?"

"I say, Jim, what mechanical work did you do first?" asked one darkey of another. "Why, cut teeth ob course," replied the other instantly.

A lady who was startled out of sleep by some one trying to enter the house, cried out, "Who is there?" "Your late husband," was the reply.

An Irishman says "that the best remedy for baldness is to rub whisky on your head until the hairs grow out, then take it inwardly to clinch the roots."

NEW ARRANGEMENT

FOR THE

SENTINEL.

Published in the City of Raleigh, N. C.,

Daily, Semi Weekly and Weekly.

William E. Pell, } Editors.
Seaton Gales, }

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determined to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. DECEMBER, next, and to make such improvements in its general character as will commend it to the patronage of an enlightened public.

In POLITICS it will be thoroughly Conservative, advocating, at all times:

A strict observance of the Constitution of the United States, and the harmonious Union of equal States;

Obedience to law and the enforcement of order;

The supremacy of the civil over the military, in time of peace;

The equality of the three co ordinate branches of the government;

The sovereignty of the States over their own internal affairs, in strict conformity to the Constitution;

The maintenance of freedom and justice to all, without distinction of color, but the supremacy of the white race as the governing class;

Opposition to Radicalism in all its phases.

W. E. PELL,
Raleigh, Jan. 1st., 1868. Proprietor

The Bankrupt Act.

We have been requested to publish the Bankrupt Law. This is impossible. It makes a respectable volume. In order, however, that our readers may understand it, and may therefore not be liable to be imposed upon by parties, who are indifferent to the interests of others, we have taken some pains to obtain from several sources the following general principles of the Act, for the benefit of all who contemplate seeking its benefits. But first of all, we advise our friends not to determine hastily what they will do, until they have had the counsel of a respectable and intelligent Attorney, upon whom they can rely.

1. The manifest design of the Bankrupt Law is to benefit honest, but unfortunate, debtors, whose just liabilities are greater than they can pay.

2. To become a voluntary bankrupt under this Act, the debtor must owe at least $300, which, of course, he is not able to pay in full.

3. Petitioners under the Bankrupt Act are required to render a schedule of all their debts and liabilities, of every kind and description whatever, and also an inventory of all their estate, both real and personal, including all property and effects of which they are possessed, or in which they may have an interest, (though not in possession) in conformity with certain "Forms" prescribed in the "General Orders" of the Supreme Court of the United States. These schedules, verified by the oath of the petitioner before a District Court Judge, Register in Bankruptcy, or U S Commissioner, must accompany the petition, and, when filed, is the commencement of proceedings in Bankruptcy. If it should be found out, pending the proceedings at any time before the bankrupt is discharged, that he has, by any shift or subterfuge, made a false or partial schedule, this would be evidence of fraud and would defeat his discharge.

4. When the petition is by a firm or copartnership, a full set of schedules of the respective estates of the members of the firm should also be added.

5. When the petition is filed, the case is immediately referred to a Register, who examines the petition and schedules annexed thereto, and if they are correct in form, makes a certificate to that effect, to be filed with the Clerk, then adjudges the debtor a Bankrupt and issues a warrant to the messenger to summon all the creditors named in the petitioner's schedules to meet at the Register's office, at a certain time and place, to prove their claims and elect one or more Assignees to take charge of the Bankrupt's estate.

6. A creditor can, however, prove his claim at any time previous to the last dividend, which will generally be six months subsequent to the adjudication of Bankruptcy.

7. A creditor has by standing in a Bankrupt Court until he proves his claim.

8. Creditors have no right to compel the Bankrupt to answer questions concerning the disposal of property by him acquired subsequent to filing a petition in Bankruptcy. In other words the date of the filing of the petition by or against a debtor, is the date at which, if adjudication of bankruptcy follows, the old order of things passes away and a new leaf is turned over." On this point decisions have been variant. The safe rule appears to be, that the applicant in Bankruptcy has a perfect right to claim whatever he has made after his application, by his personal exertions, but any profits he may have made from investment or credit, may be liable to the claim of the receiver up to almost the period of his discharge.

9. The Bankrupt can apply to the Court at any time after the expiration of six months, and within one year from the adjudication, for the discharge in bankruptcy, and in case no assets come into the hands of the assignee, or no debts be proved against his estate, at any time after the expiration of sixty days.

10 As soon as an Assignee is elected or appointed, the Judge or Register will convey to him, by deed of assignment, all the bankrupt's property except what is exempted, viz: "Household and kitchen furniture and other necessaries not exceeding in value ($500) five hundred dollars, also his wearing apparel and that of his wife and children, and such other property not included in the foregoing as is exempt from levy and sale upon execution or other process by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt resides, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by State exemption laws in force in 1864. A safe course, Collier suggests, under this head, that the common impression that persons may become bankrupts and yet be allowed to retain their houses and lands, or other property of considerable value, is a great mistake. Under the Act, no honest bankrupt in this State can have allotted to him free from the operation of the Act exceeding $700 besides the wearing apparel of himself and family. Bankrupts in this State are not confined to homesteads under this Act.

11 It is the duty of the assignee, within twenty days after the assignment to him is made, to allot to the bankrupt such articles as are exempted, and file an inventory of the same with the value of each article so allotted, and creditors may make objections to the report of the Assignee at any time within twenty days after it is filed.

12. As to costs in bankruptcy proceedings, section 66 of the Bankrupt Act provides that the petitioner, before a warrant issues, shall deposit fifty dollars with the Register, or with the Clerk, to be handed to the Register as a security for his fees. General order XXIX provides that the fees of the Register, Marshal and Clerk shall be prepaid or secured before they can be compelled to act. It is also provided by General order XXX that where the debtor has no means, and can prove the fact to the satisfaction of the Court, upon application, an order will be made requiring all the costs in the case to be paid out of the fifty dollars deposited with the Register. If, however, there are assets, but not enough to pay the Messenger after deducting the Bankrupt's exempted property, so that nothing comes into the hands of the Assignee, the fees will have to be paid by the Bankrupt; but if the Assignee receives assets, the fees of the Messenger will be paid by him before any dividend is made among creditors.

13 Some suppose that the Register is entitled to $50 fee. The fees of the Register, Messenger, Clerk, and costs of publication of notices in Bankruptcy, are fixed by law, and if they demand higher fees, they are liable, as in other cases of malfeasance in office. In ordinary cases of Bankruptcy, the fees may amount to $100. In some cases more, in some less—the costs depending on the amount of labor and litigation involved in each case.

14. Differences of opinion among Attorneys have existed in this State, as to the time to make application in Bankruptcy. Some have supposed that no debtor will be permitted to apply for Bankruptcy after some early day in March, unless he is able to pay fifty per cent of his debts. We are assured that this is not the case. The law did not go into operation for the purposes for which it was enacted until June 1st, 1867. It gives twelve months from that time, to all honest debtors, whatever may be the extent of their indebtedness which they cannot pay in which to present their applications. After the 1st of June next, every debtor must be able to pay fifty per cent of his indebtedness in order to a successful application in bankruptcy, unless he first obtain the consent of a majority of his creditors.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whom it is made, may stamp it before it is used; and if used after the 30th of July, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot afterwards be effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument, to appropriately stamp it, renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrants, publication, &c., in which case these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original process.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits of legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of five cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamps to which this instrument is liable, under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties.

In conveyance of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required, and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.
